BEISEKER AND DISTRICT NEWS

Mrs. Pete Hagel has returned home from a trip to Montana, where she was in time for a Thanksgiving dinner at her brother and sister-in-law's, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jochim (Jr.).

Val Schmalz, the manager for National Grain at Beiseker, is looking very pleased these days. Apparently, the National repair crew gave the interior of his office a face lifting, some new furniture and grain testing equipment. Val is busy handing out patronage dividend cheques to his customers.

A meeting of the Home and School Association will be held on Monday, Dec. 10, at 8 p.m., in the Beiseker Memorial Hall. All parents are urged to attend.

F. A. Lount and Peter Schmalz were in Calgary last week attending a Liberal rally held in Victoria Park Pavilion, where the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce, was the main speaker. C. F. Lohrke, Matt Schmalz, Peter Schmalz and F. A. Lount attended the luncheon held at the Paliser hotel in honor of Mr. Howe and in support of Dr. F. G. Buchanan, Liberal candidate in West Calgary by-election Dec. 10, 1951.

She also takes part in the work of the Carbon Junior Beef Club.

$394 Raised At Auction Sale

LEVEL LAND—The SDA Dorcas Society auction sale of home cooking and sewing was extremely successful and the ladies are most grateful to all who helped to make it such a success. The sale and collection total was $394.50. Even with the annual hall meeting in the basement the patronage was large.

The Dorcas Society offer their sincere regrets that there was no program. It shall not happen again.

$45,000 Is Objective Through Sales Of Christmas Seals

CALGARY—Christmas Seal returns for Calgary and district have now reached $18,818, which is still just a little ahead of the same period last year, it is reported by C. T. Webb, chairman of the Calgary Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal committee. Mr. Webb pointed out that his is still $26,182 short of the $45,000 objective.

Alberta Tuberculosis Association officials report the provincial total now stands at $72,500 towards the objective of $185,000. The Association stresses that the Christmas Seal sale is the only appeal it makes and that no other funds are available for all its anti-tuberculosis work, which includes many preventive services such as the mobile chest X-ray units, special X-ray installations for routine chest X-ray of admissions, tuberculin testing and health education, as well as a complete rehabilitation program and extensive nursing and welfare service.

C. Robert Dicke, general secretary of the Association, declared that tuberculosis is still far from defeated, though spectacular progress has been made in recent years. He said, "Tb. killed more than 4,000 Canadians last year, including 170 Albertans. Tb. costs over $30,000,000 a year in cash alone, besides untold suffering, misery, and heartache. We will never have enough money until Tb. is as rare as smallpox or typhoid or even polio."

Prince Hears Mother's Birthday Greetings on Phonograph

ALTHOUGH his royal parents were in mid-Atlantic, Prince Charles had a birthday hello, the recorded variety, from them just the same, when he celebrated his third birthday recently in London. The three year old toddler, who received many toys as birthday presents, received another treat when his parents arrived home on Nov. 18, laden with presents for him from cities across Canada.

Mr. Stanley and Harry Konchu of Cluny were also visitors at the SDA church on Dec. 1.

The Drumheller school division of sub-division No. 4 had their annual meeting in the Scouts' hall in Carbon at 2 p.m. on Nov. 29. Mr. James Gordon was the retiring trustee. There will be an election later and the new trustee's name will be announced.

Dr. and Mrs. Hanson of California were visitors at the SDA church over the week-end. Mrs. Hanson was a Level Land teacher a few years ago.

The Level Land district farmers are still unable to pick up swaths, and since the new snow on Wednesday nights, hopes are fading away for this year.

Mrs. Henry Riefmyder, Jr., and Mrs. Bechthold were Edmonton visitors on Thursday and Friday. While in Edmonton, they went through the legislative buildings and other places of interest. The road between Ponoka and Edmonton was so icy they felt they should have used ice skates instead of a car.

Devious Oriental Diplomacy

The U.N. negotiators for a cease fire agreement in Korea, have shown commendable patience with their North Korean and Communist China contemporaries. Over a long period patient efforts have been taken to make no move that would give their opponents an excuse for breaking off the conference. But the Communist powers have been stalling quite obviously in the expectation that better gains, or favorable events would permit them to call the whole thing off.

The diplomacy of the East is akin to that of the Soviet leaders in Moscow. The Russians are fundamentally Asiatics in their mental processes. Premier Stalin himself was born in Asia, in the state of Georgia. The diplomacy of the East is always devious and deceptive and the West has difficulty in understanding the Oriental mentality. One needs only to remember the Japanese negotiators in Washington before Pearl Harbor, when, even while negotiations were in progress for a peaceful settlement of differences, bombs were dropped on the U.S. Navy at Hawaii.

But it seems now as if at long last the negotiators in Korea have reached a point where an understanding and settlement of the big cease fire problem can be expected.

Co-Ops and Free Enterprise

(By LEWIS MILLIGAN, in the Hanna Herald)

In a recent article I made the statement that "free enterprise can only exist under the capitalist system" and Mr. George Keen, of Brantford, Ontario, founder of the Ontario Co-operative Union, offers me some "enlightenment" on the subject. He says that while writing of economic conditions in Britain, I seem "never to have heard of the greatest of all free enterprises—the British Co-operative Movement." Having lived 35 years in England I could hardly be that ignorant. But everything that Mr. Keen says about the Co-ops in Britain goes to prove my statement. I agree with him when he says that the Co-operative Movement is free enterprise and "private enterprises also." They are both one and the same, and they owe their existence to the capitalist system. They could not exist under the Socialist system, for under that system they would be taken over and nationalized along with all other free enterprises. That they still exist in Britain is owing to the fact that Britain is still a capitalist country, although operating under the handicap of a nominally Socialist government—which has lately been appealing to private enterprise and the competitive system to save the country from the economic mess that their Socialist experiments have brought about.

I would go further and affirm that the Co-operatives are themselves capitalistic, and are as much "profit motivated" (Mr. Keen's term) as any other private corporation. Mr. Keen says the Co-operative "passes on to its members the net savings, or profits, of production, wholesaling and retailing, in proportion to the extent each has contributed thereto by his purchases." In other words, the members receive a dividend according to their individual purchases which are a form of investment. These profits or "savings" are an inducement to membership, and if there were little or no profits to divide the membership would fall off accordingly. The Co-op members with whom I was acquainted in the Old Country used to boast of their "nice little dividends." But, if I remember right, some of them were in the form of coupons with which they could make other purchases.

Mr. Keen says: "I am afraid that, outside the Co-operative Movement, the days of free enterprise are numbered." He will may be afraid, for when that day comes the Co-operatives themselves will cease to be free enterprises and will become what the Collectives are in Soviet Russia. When Mr. Keen says that, in his opinion, "we are steadily moving to an age of equal quasi-monopoly," I would remind him that real monopoly is the objective of the Co-operative Movement. He admits as much when he says that "outside the Co-operative Movement, the days of free enterprise are numbered," which if it means anything, means that the Co-ops will have a complete monopoly of all industries, wholesale and retail business, and everything else. If that isn't Communism, what is it? It is certainly not free enterprise. The main argument of the early promoters of Co-operative Movement was that it would eliminate competition, which they regarded as chief cause of all our social and economic problems.

I am sure that Mr. Keen does not want to see Communism in this country, but in condemning capitalism and seeking to displace it with Co-operativism, he is heading for the Communist State. You can't fight all-out Communism with Communistic ideas without being ultimately devoured by the monster. Freedom is the only weapon that can defeat it.

Justice For Alberta

It almost looks as if Alberta and the prairies were on the verge of obtaining justice in the matter of the equalization of freight rates. The House of Commons, has completed passage of the Liberal government's legislation dealing with the controversial freight rates.

The Prairie provinces, and Alberta in particular, have suffered long enough under the injustice of the quarrel between the East and the prairies, and the extreme West and the central provinces, over this matter. Now the fairest and most equitable distribution of freight rates for the whole of Canada is likely to be realized. It only requires approval of the Senate to become law.

It is depressing, however, to note Premier Johnston's public statement on the matter, as published in the newspapers. British Columbia has for long enjoyed an advantage over Alberta in the freight rate system and the B.C. Premier has only narrow provincial interests in mind when he objects to Alberta getting a chance to ship its grains and other goods at the same freight rates costs as the Coast farmers and manufacturers enjoy. Why, now that transportation facilities are so greatly increased and improved and brought up to modern standards of speed and efficiency, should any part of Canada be discriminated against by the government or railways. Why should any sectional outlook prevent Canada from becoming as rapidly as possible a united and single country?

Those Opinion Polls

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

PORT ARTHUR.—In the restaurant of the House of Commons the other day, some MP's came over and congratulated me for calling the shot so closely in the British election.

Well, we can't always be wrong, and this time I happened to hit pretty near the bull's-eye.

I confess I went out on a limb deliberately because I thought this was a good chance to help debunk those public opinion polls. They are useful, but not infallible.

None of the opinion polls which I saw recorded in Britannia Elmore Philpott ain't came within a mile of the actual result. For all of them showed the Conservatives leading Labor by a margin of several per cent.

The actual results, as we all now know, was that Labor led the Conservatives in the total votes, even though the Tories did win the most seats.

Some professors were even further off the beam than the routine polls. They had worked out a fantastic formula which, they claimed, would give in advance the exact number of seats by which the winning party would win in a two-way fight.

They said: Find the ratio between party and party and then raise that ratio to the third power.

That is "cube it." The answer you get will be the number of seats by which the leading party will win. They cited several examples to prove it, applying the formula to past elections.

For the benefit of old-timers like me, who either never could do this "cube it" stuff or else have forgotten how, get your high school sons to do it.

Better still, get your high school daughters to do it. For my observation is they are more likely to have the right answers than the sons.

But don't do it expecting to get some magic key to the right answers. For the English professors with their "cube it" formula were even further off the beam than Gallup and Co.

The official figures show these totals:

|---|------------------|
| Labor | 13,911,528 |
| Conservatives | 13,721,346 |
| Under the professors' "cube" formula you would do this: | |
| | 48.72 48.72 |
| Multiply | x x 48.72 |
| | 48.05 48.05 |
| | 48.05 48.05 |

The answer to the above is the number of seats by which Labor should have been beaten the Tories. By the professors' formula, actually, Labor beat the Tories in seats.

Grim Prospect

As long as Russian-inspired haggling over negotiations for an early cease-fire in Korea continue to hold up peace efforts, the grim prospect of another long winter in the lines faces soldiers on both sides in the Korean fighting.

DANGER OF SEX PERVERTS

Dear Sir—Your editorial "Young Girl's in Danger" is good, but too tame. Why criticize the girls? True, the one going to a public dance with a stranger as an escort is flirting with danger, but the working girl walking on the street is not to blame, if attacked by a sex maniac.

But what about these sex criminals? Too often they are let off with light punishment, when they should be severely dealt with. The modern attitude seems to be to let wrong doers operate without fear of consequences. In the old days delinquents were made to pay for their sins, and if the same policy held true today our streets would be safer for young girls to walk on.

I wish your paper success and congratulate you on your letter to Princess Elizabeth.

Dear Sir—"Be careful, Vel," warned Fab. "If you go into the Surf, the Tide might get you, and Dash you on the rocks—you might even Draft out to sea."

"Oh, sweetheart!" she exclaimed, "I did so want to Rinso my body and look Spic 'n Span just for you."

"My little Ivory Flake, your desire Cheers me—it makes me feel so Chipso."

"It Duz?"

"For Peet's sake, don't you know what I'm getting at? Is there no Joy for me?"

"Not now. Let the Breeze cool you off."

"Oh, well—better Lux next time!"

Where this might have ended we don't know because P&G came along just then with news that the weatherman was predicting Ivory Snow for the night.

LETTER TO 'LIZ

Dear Sir—Your letter to Princess Elizabeth has raised my hopes that more may be published on the same subject. It is refreshing to find a loyal editor free to publish such an item. How free is the majority of our Canadian press? What happened to those students who expressed doubts about the purpose of the Royal Tour in their college paper.

Royal Tours always presage a major political manoeuvre. Is it therefore wrong to enquire into the reasons of the tour that is just over? George Drew suggested making the Princess and her husband Canadian citizens. Does Canada plan on inviting them to come and live here in the green pastures of our Canadian life, that is not ridden with clergy and royalty in Government?

If a free people is an informed people, we do not need to fear expression of such opinions as I have given here. But, here in Canada, let us keep in mind that Government officials—Royal or otherwise—are our servants and not our masters. That is the essence of our dearly loved Canadian democracy. "O Canada, we stand on guard for thee."

ALBERTA REFINERIES NOW HANDLE 60,000 BARRELS DAILY

The new McColl-Frontenac Oil Company's Edmonton Refinery has yet to add the largest catalytic cracking unit to be built in Alberta, but already its refining capacity is 5,500 barrels of crude oil daily.

The plant, built this year at a cost of $8,000,000, is situated on the south bank of the North Saskatchewan river about three miles southeast of Edmonton on Highway 16 and in the same vicinity as the Imperial and British American refineries.

With Imperial and British American the McColl-Frontenac is now the third Edmonton refinery and one of the dozen in Alberta accounting for a total provincial daily production of some 60,000 barrels.

Sources of the McColl-Frontenac refinery's crude are the Leduc and Redwater fields. But construction is well in hand of an eight-inch transmission pipeline from the Wizard Lake field to the new refinery by way of Nisku, a length of some 42 miles. The pipeline, which is being laid by the Texaco Exploration Company and is expected to be in operation before the end of the present year, will feed the McColl-Frontenac refinery with crude from the three-zone Wizard Lake field which the company in association with Texaco has developed during the past few months and where there are now four producing wells yielding some 600 barrels daily. The pipeline is designed to carry this oil at a rate of 12,000 barrels daily with provision for stepping up to 30,000 barrels.

Storage tanks at the new plant have a capacity of 750,000 barrels.

Beside the catalytic cracking unit, the plant includes units for the desalting of crude oil, for crude distillation, the treatment of gasoline, catalytic polymerization, delayed coking and other refinements in the processing of such petroleum products as diesel oil, kerosene and heating oils.

Catalytic cracking is one of the comparatively recent developments in the refining of crude oil. It is based on the chemical proposition that the mutual reaction of chemical compounds is modified by the presence of a catalyst, catalysis being the effect produced by a substance which, while not changing itself, assists a chemical change in other substances. The oil to be treated is passed at proper temperatures through chambers containing the catalyst and is then fractionated. Catalytic cracking has practically superseded the older process of thermal or pyrolytic cracking. A number of technical advantages are claimed for the process including minimum wear and tear on the cracking equipment, but to the layman, these can be boiled down to increased production of higher grades of gasoline.

For its water supply the plant depends on the North Saskatchewan River and pumps its supply to a reservoir 150 feet above the stream's normal level. Conversely, from the water draining away from the refinery waste oil and chemicals are recovered by a system of traps.

Like all major refineries, the plant operates its own fire department with trained fire fighters, modern equipment and high pressure water lines.

In all some 150 persons are regularly employed in all branches of the refinery.

Grain Marketing Question Won't Be Discussed

Marketing of coarse grains through the Canadian Wheat Board will not be discussed at the coming session of the Alberta Legislature, Agriculture minister D. A. Ure said recently.

Mr. Ure was commenting on the result of a referendum in Manitoba in which 89 per cent of the farmers of that province voted for the continuance of selling oats and barley as at present.

The Alberta Legislature two years ago passed legislation to make delivery of oats and barley to the Wheat Board compulsory.

MORE AND MORE young Alberta men and women are answering the call to service in Canada's Army, Navy or Air Force. Getting sworn into the RCAF is a pleasant incident as witness the smile on the face of John Hodgson of Arvilla and Alcomdale, Alta., after he enlisted in the RCAF early this year. Hodgson, formerly an apprentice mechanic with Mills Motors, Alcomdale, will put his skill and knowledge to good use as a Mobile Equipment Technician in the RCAF. F/L V. A. (Suds) Sutherland, Recruiting Officer, is shown after he administered the oath to Hodgson. Hodgson was then sent to Aylmer, Ontario, where he received his basic training.

Alberta Civil Defence Plans Proceed With Local Groups

A Provincial Civil Defence school is to be held on Jan. 28th of next year to accommodate those who have been unable to attend the earlier sessions. A course on Atomic and Bacterial Warfare was held in Edmonton late in November. In addition to this municipalities are organizing civil defence groups against the possible day of atomic warfare.

In addition to municipalities already organized, the following have set up a Civil Defence organization:

M.D. of Stony Plain No. 84, Controller, Mr. H. H. Brox; Town of Strathmore, Controller, Mr. C. P. English; Town of Athabasca, Controller, Mr. F. B. Facey.

The following municipalities have set up Civil Defence units: M.D. Flagstaff No. 62 incorporated with the villages of Forestburg, Alliance, Strome, Killam, Sedgewick and Lougheed. The Civil Defence Unit Controller is Mr. Russel H. Smith, M.D. of Mountain View No. 49 incorporated with the towns of Olds and Didsbury, and the villages of Carstairs and Crossfields. The Civil Defence Unit Controller is Captain William J. Bagnall.

Albertans Tops In Oats

Three Albertans took the three top prizes at the Chicago International Grain and Hay show held recently.

The prizes were won in the oat competition, and are listed as follows (with variety in parenthesis):

- 1—Gordon Moyer, Elmworth, Alta., champion (Victory).
- 2—Stalnor Valli, Red Deer, Alta. (Larain).
- 3—Matt Schurner, Sangudo, Alta. (Victory).

Safety Stickers Compulsory Jan. 1

All passenger cars and motorcycles operating in Alberta must bear safety stickers by Jan. 1 to avoid prosecutions.

This was announced today by Hon. C. E. Gerhart, Provincial Secretary. He said instructions have been issued to assure that no cars or motorcycles without safety stickers will be allowed to operate on Alberta roads and highways after Jan. 1. Owners of cars which do not bear the approved government safety sticker will be subject to prosecution after that date.

Mr. Gerhart said that the safety testing campaign began in July and since then motorists had had ample time to have their cars tested. Charge for the safety test is $1 and garages and service stations in all parts of the Province are operating as approved testing stations.

The Provincial Secretary pointed out that the purpose of the safety testing campaign is to make the roads and highways of Alberta safer by keeping faulty vehicles off the roads. He suggested that motorists who have not yet had their cars tested do so soon to avoid needless inconvenience.

Real 1-Cylinder Gas Motor To Power Aircraft

Bob Rudigar, whose father operates the Lac La Biche Garage in Lac La Biche has a miniature airplane motor equipped with propeller hooked up to a counter and two dry cell batteries in front part of the garage. Bob is also busy in his spare time constructing a model airplane, which will fly under its own power once the motor is installed.

The craft will be covered with wax tissue paper and should take off and fly by itself.

Important News For Bedridden Invalids

Invalids in Alberta, who are unable in any way to provide for their own support, are urged to contact headquarters of a new group that will present their case for monthly payments, similar to payments for the aged and blind. A statement from Ottawa reads as follows:

TO THE INDIGENT INVALIDS

Recently an Organization has been formed in order to obtain from the Federal Government a pension destined to the Indigent Invalids. The House of Commons will be asked to consider the demand of this organization. In accordance with this project, it is necessary that all indigent invalids send their names and addresses to: The Indigent Invalid Organization Reg'd. 30 Ottawa St., Granby, P.Q. This Organization will send each invalid a form to fill out and be signed by two witnesses not related to him.

Absolves Coyote Campaign In Field Mice Increase

Scattered reports from farmers that the province's coyote control program was partially responsible for an increase of field mice in some areas were not confirmed by A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner.

Mr. Wilson said that the coyote program has been confined to livestock areas, particularly the foothills, where large losses to sheep and cattle have occurred.

The idea was not to massacre the coyotes indiscriminately, Mr. Wilson said, as officials are aware that about 65 per cent of a coyote's diet is made up of field rodents.

The government realizes that the large amount of unthreshed grain in the fields has been conducive to an increase in the mice population. Mr. Wilson said losses in some sections will be extensive but he did not believe that coyote killing was responsible for the increase in the mice.

Caution Advised In Wheat Feeding

Farmers who will be feeding wheat to their stock this winter are advised by the Lethbridge Experimental Station to be very careful in the amount of wheat that is fed.

Frozen and sprouted grains are not poisonous when fed to livestock but may have some limitations as feed. Wheat is very heavy feed, and livestock must be accustomed to it gradually.

It is mainly because feeders have introduced wheat into the ration too quickly, resulting in losses of livestock, that the belief has arisen that frozen and sprouted wheats are poisonous, say officials at the station.

MOULDY FEED

A warning is also given against feeding mouldy and heated grain or hay to livestock. If it is desired to feed hay or grain that is slightly moulded, it should be fed so that the stock can pick out the good and leave the badly moulded parts. Stock which is eating mouldy hay or feed that has been heated should be watched closely. If they start to go off feed, such feeding should be discontinued.

MEET GISELE MACKENZIE, now of Hollywood, who sings with Bob Crosby's orchestra in the radio show "Club 15", Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays over CBS stations in the United States, and the CBC Dominion network, at 6:30 p.m. CST, 5:30 MST. Canadians know her better as Gisele LaFleche, who entertained on CBC networks from Toronto four years before moving to Hollywood last Spring. Singing isn't her only accomplishment—she plays the piano and violin, and writes most of her own arrangements. Born in Winnipeg 24 years ago, she worked her way into radio via a dance band, and has since added club entertainment work and recordings to her schedule. She sings in both English and French, and her repertoire includes ballads, novelties, blues, rhythm and folk songs.

"The Turk's" Hockey Career Nearing End of Era

One of the most remarkable careers in the history of hockey is slowly drawing to a close as old age creeps up on Turk Broda, goalie for Toronto Maple Leafs. For 15 years "The Turk" has been in the business, all but one season being spent in Toronto livery. He started his career in monied ranks with Detroit Olympics of the International league in the 1935-36 season. Personally scouted by Conn Smythe, Turk was bought by the Leafs and took over from George Hainsworth the next season. For seven straight seasons Broda held the job, then spent two full terms and part of another in the Canadian army. He came back near the end of the 1945-46 season to claim his position back from Frank McCool and held it until last season, when Al Rollins starting sharing duties with the aging veteran. Twice 36-year-old Broda, oldest player in the N.H.L., was named to the N.H.L. All-Star team, and twice he won the Vezina trophy—a fine record to close out an equally fine career.

Livestock Survey Held This Month

Each December the Bureau of Statistics in co-operation with the provinces conducts a survey of the number of live stock on farms, and cost of hired labor. Forms for this survey will be in the hands of farmers by about Dec. 1.

The success of this survey depends on the co-operation of farmers in filling in and returning the questionnaires. A widespread response from all types of farmers throughout each province is needed in order that the statistics can be based on a sufficiently large number of reports from a representative sample of farms throughout Canada.

The statistics obtained from the survey are used extensively throughout the year. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is the official source of statistical information in Canada and its figures are used by governments, farm organizations and industry to plan future operations. International organizations such as the world Food and Agriculture Organization depend on the Bureau to supply up-to-date figures on Canada's agricultural industry. The farmer, through providing the information needed by the Bureau, has a real opportunity to help form a true picture of agricultural conditions.

Edmonton Woman Wins $1,000 Jackpot

An elderly Edmonton woman, Mrs. E. Hopgood, of 10238, 109 street, received word recently that she had won $1,000 in a radio contest, after sending in only one letter to the program.

Mrs. Hopgood who is 72 years of age, told reporters that this was "the nicest Christmas present" she had ever received.

"When I got the telegram the other day the first thing I thought of was 'which one of my children is ill' and, after I sat down and read the wire I got so excited I could hardly eat all day!" Speaking in a soft, confident voice, Mrs. Hopgood related how friends in neighboring apartments crowded into her room to congratulate her, and how excited she had become.

When asked what she planned to do with the money, Mrs. Hopgood said that after she buys a few things for her apartment, she will give some to her family, and put the rest away.

GRADUATES HEAD HOME

GIMLI, Man. — (BUP) — A group of 25 Royal Air Force pilots headed home for Britain today after graduating from the RCAF flying school, to a man echoing the feeling of Pilot Officer Martin Stone, "Gosh, it was swell." Stone, from Reading, Eng., was a member of the first group of RAF trainees to receive their wings in Canada since World War II, the vanguard of many thousands of airmen the Dominion will train for the defence of the western world under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization plan.

"Ten-Eighty" New Anti-Coyote Aid

The experimental use of a new poison named "Compound 1080" for Alberta's coyote program was announced recently by O. S. Longman, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

The poison has been planted as bait at 21 stations in Cochrane Municipal District, with an equal number still planned for the area. Others are ready for distribution in Pincher Creek Municipal District.

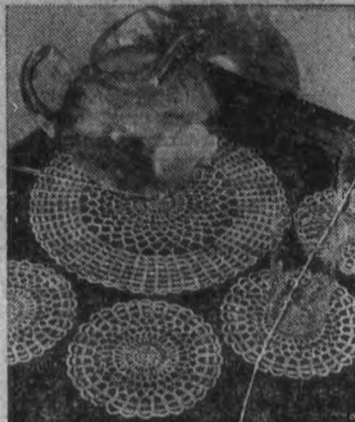

Compound 1080, which has the chemical name sodium fluoroacetate, can be used only during the winter months so that the ground in the area will not be affected by the chemicals. The poison is injected into carcasses of horses, placed at remote areas in the province. There is no known antidote for Compound 1080. Because of its deadliness, only government experts are permitted to set the bait. Warning signs are posted on gates throughout the surrounding area and baits are set at least one mile from the nearest building. Only a small amount of the poison is needed to kill an animal or human being, and the Department of Agriculture urges persons living in areas where the poison is being used to be extremely careful.

Compound 1080 differs from many other poisons in that the body of an animal killed by the HUSTLING and bustling is in the air as active and smart women solve their holiday problems by making use of spare moments to tuck away another present. Pretty doilies are turned out at amazing speed while riding in trains, street cars and busses or while being "dummy" at bridge. Crocheting is fast to do with just a few stitches on the hook at a time enabling one to pick it up and put it down at a minute's notice without having to recount numbers of stitches.

Crochet in Color

Color in crochet work is becoming more and more popular with crochet fans. It assists women to create truly beautiful and life-like designs that will blend with the color combinations of rooms. One of the newest fashions in crochet is the floral doily worked in contrasting colors. The color range in crochet cottons is wide so that you'll be able to match or contrast them with the color scheme of your room. Why not surprise a friend with a doily or a scarf that you've made for her home?

Fun for the School Girl

The younger generation is learning to sew, knit and crochet by making pretty things for friends, themselves and for their own rooms. They are putting dainty lace edges on handkerchiefs for Mother or Teacher who both know the value of hand work and appreciate the time and care spent in making a special gift just for her. Little girls also enjoy making pretty collars and cuffs, either in all lace or putting lace edges on fine fabrics. Yes, it's really a fascinating and useful hobby. Patterns can be found in crochet catalogues and beginners can learn easily by following diagrams, while experts are forever searching for new and simple patterns because they know simplicity is the basis of good taste, and speed is important in preparing one's gifts.

Set of Doilies

The dainty crochet refreshment set pictured here has four small doilies 5 1/2 inches in diameter and a large one about 11 inches. Directions are given for white or ecru, but think how pretty and refreshing it could be in a pretty green or soft pink, adding grace and charm to any table. It's truly a welcome gift for this festive season. If you wish to make this pretty REFRESHMENT SET, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. 7715.

poison is as dangerous as the original bait. For that reason, the public is warned not to handle the carcasses of coyotes found in the poison area.

Use of the Compound 1080 on an experimental basis will not interfere with the present use of cyanide guns or "coyote getters." Unlike the new poison which is restricted from the general public, coyote getters are freely supplied to municipalities applying use.

for them, and can be placed anywhere in their districts.

The cyanide guns can be set throughout the year, while Compound 1080 can only be used during the winter months.

Mr. Longman announced that coyote getters have killed about 175 coyotes during the past two months, and that 6,000 guns still are available free of charge to municipalities applying for their use.

Conservation

A speaker was lecturing on forest reserve. "I don't suppose," said he, "that there's a person in the house who has done a single thing to conserve our timber resources."

Silence ruled for several seconds, and then a meek voice from the rear of the hall timidly retorted, "I once shot a woodpecker."

All the Details

"Have you ever appeared as a witness in a suit before?" counsel asked the girl in the witness box. "Why, of course," she replied.

"Will you tell the jury what suit it was?"

The information came promptly: "It was a blue suit, with white collar and cuffs, and buttons all the way down the front."

Trouble Is Here

"If you please, ma'am," began the new maid, "there's a strange woman downstairs. She won't give her name but she's taken off her hat and coat, opened two cupboards, rubbed her fingers over the piano and complained about the dust, and when I left her she was—"

"Oh, dear," exclaimed Mrs. Brownson, "I didn't expect my husband's mother until tomorrow."

Some Mule

A woman clerk discovered the youngster wandering forlornly in the lobby of the great building and, in a spirit of kindness, said to him: "Perhaps you'd like to see the 40-foot mural on the floor above. It's really quite interesting."

With an expression of awed anticipation, the farm boy hotfooted his way upstairs. A few minutes later there came a despairing call from the Bureau of Animal Husbandry.

"What's the big idea?" a voice demanded. "Who the heck sent a guy up here looking for a 40-foot mule?"

Cause For Happiness

A Kansas cyclone hit a farm house just before dawn one morning. It lifted the roof off, picked up the bed on which the farmer and his wife slept and set it down gently in the back yard.

The wife was crying softly.

"Don't be scared, Mary," her husband said, "we're not hurt." Mary continued to cry. "I'm not scared," she responded between sobs. "I'm just happy 'cause this is the first time in 14 years we've been out together."

Futile

"Do you know that your wife is going about telling everybody that you can't keep her in clothes?" "That's nothing. I bought her a home and I can't keep her in that either."

Smart Pupil

The professor of chemistry was giving a demonstration of the properties of various acids.

"Now," he said, "I am going to drop this fifty-cent piece into this glass of acid. Will it dissolve?" "No, sir," replied one of the students.

"No?" said the demonstrator. "Then perhaps you will explain to the class why it won't dissolve." "Because," came the answer, "if it would you wouldn't drop it in."

A Freak

The soldier was reading a letter from his wife, and didn't seem too pleased about it.

"What's the matter?" asked his chum. "Is there trouble at home?"

"Well, not exactly," replied the soldier, "but we've got a freak in the family. It says here, 'You won't know Willie when you come back; he's grown another foot.'"

Eskimos, Indians, Join Red Cross

Although Indians and Eskimos have long been regarded as among the most harried races in the world, they still have time to help others less fortunate than themselves.

Away up in Aklavik, N.W.T., the local Eskimo and Indian women are most anxious to join the Red Cross Women's Work Committee and Red Cross sewing. Knitting instructions are too compllicated for them to follow, but they are all excellent sewers, and work will be sent to them from Division Headquarters in Calgary. Aklavik is Alberta Division's most northerly Red Cross Branch and has a fine record of service.

Atomic Weapon Is 'Launched' to Alleviate Suffering

In a world made feverish by the threat of death and destruction by atomic bombs, Canada unveiled an atomic weapon designed not for war, but to alleviate the suffering of mankind. At Victoria hospital in London, Ont., radioactive cobalt 60, an isotope of regular cobalt, produced at the federal government's Chalk River atomic pile, was turned over to the Ontario Cancer Foundation to mark another milestone in treatment of the dreaded disease. So powerful is the beam of this bomb-shaped machine which will be directed at cancerous cells, $50,000,000 worth of radium would be required to equal its strength. This relative cheapness means hospitals and clinics throughout the world will be able to acquire their own installations in the fight against cancer. Above, technician Joyce Lawson, left, and nurse Mary Lou Taylor are seen demonstrating therapy unit.

Memorial Hall Officers Elected

BEISEKER—The annual meeting of the Beiseker Memorial Hall was held in the hall basement on Nov. 28 at 8 p.m., with about 30 shareholders present. Owing to the illness of the president, Frank Schmaltz, Sam Leiske, director, acted as chairman for the meeting.

The financial statement prepared by the auditor, E. B. Allan, for the Hall Co., was read and found satisfactory and accepted by the shareholders present, after which the chairman called for nominations to fill the four vacancies on the board. After ballots were counted the following were elected: Carl L. Schmaltz, Art Berreth, Tony Hagel (Jr.), and J. H. Schmaltz, who were re-elected, and Matt Schmaltz, Ed Schwartzberger, Sam Leiske. After the meeting the new board elected Matt Schmaltz president, Ed Schwartzberger vice-president, J. H. Schmaltz secretary-treasurer for the coming year. Art Berreth, Carl L. Schmaltz and Tony Hagel were appointed on the house committee.

Teachers Press For Action To Relieve Shortage

Members of the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Alberta Home and School Association, the Alberta School Trustees' Association and the Alberta Education Council pressed the provincial government recently to take action in relieving the acute teacher shortage. The groups urged the government to "attempt to find a positive approach toward reducing this growing shortage."

The Alberta Teachers' Association urged the cabinet to propose that teachers must have two years of training before they went into schools, and eliminate the present system which allows a temporary certificate to students with one year's training. They also proposed that provincial grants be increased in aid of elementary and secondary education, and help to pay the capital costs of new school construction.

Political Propaganda Not For Schools

The Alberta government is strongly opposed to the principle that political propaganda be sold through school text books.

This was stated by Premier Manning recently, commenting on a discussion that was held at the Calgary convention of the Social Credit League.

The resolution passed at Calgary called on provincial authorities to include "instruction in the principles of sound finance" in the curriculum.

Said Mr. Manning, "I think it is important that people should learn the workings of our economy, but this has nothing to do with political propaganda." He added that the resolution did not intend that Social Credit theories be advocated in school text books, "such an interpretation is deliberately false," he said.
